ADMISSION AGREEMENT

CONSENT TO TREATMENT

I acknowledge that I have received a satisfactory explanation and understand the information about my therapy including problems, goals, and methods of treatment. I do hereby consent to take part in treatment with the above therapist. I understand that assessment, development of a treatment plan with this therapist, and regularly reviewing our work toward meeting the treatment goals are in my best interest. I agree to play an active role in this process. No guarantees have been made to me about the outcomes of this care. How long therapy lasts tends to vary depending on the issues and goals each client has. I understand that my therapist will recommend a number of sessions. I acknowledge that I have the right to stop treatment at any time.

CONFIDENTIALITY

Clients are entrusted to the care of the staff and are given the assurance that all information is held in strict confidence. Any information about a patient's condition, care or treatment must not be discussed with anyone, either at or away from the office, except with the patient's written consent. What we discuss in treatment is confidential.

Duty to Warn and Protect

When a client discloses intentions or a plan to harm another person, the mental health professional is required to warn the intended victim and report this information to legal authorities. In cases in which the client discloses or implies a plan for suicide, the health care professional is required to notify legal authorities and make reasonable attempts to notify the family of the client.

Abuse of Children and Vulnerable Adults

If a client states or suggests that he or she is abusing a child (or vulnerable adult) or has recently abused a child (or vulnerable adult), or a child (or vulnerable adult) is in danger of abuse, the mental health professional is required to report this information to the appropriate social service and/or legal authorities.

Prenatal Exposure to Controlled Substances

Mental health professionals are required to report admitted prenatal exposure to controlled substances that are potentially harmful.

Minors/Guardianship

Parents or legal guardians of non-emancipated minor clients have the right to access the clients' records.

Insurance Providers (when applicable)

Insurance companies and other third-party payers are given information that they request regarding services to clients. Information that may be requested includes, but is not limited to: types of service, dates/times of service, diagnosis, treatment plan, description of impairment, progress of therapy, case notes, and summaries.

If, in the professional judgment of the mental health provider, information contained in the record would be harmful to the client, that information may be withheld from him/her and/or the legal guardian/ caretaker except under court order.

If records are requested, clients or legal guardians/ caretakers shall contact the office to set an appointment to review the records. Original records cannot be removed from the office. Copies can be made if necessary, but there is a fee for a medical records request.

I understand and agree to the limits of confidentiality and understand their meanings and ramifications.

Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA)
Notice of Privacy Practices

This notice describes how medical information about you may be used and disclosed. It also describes how you can access this information.

Please read carefully.

Privacy Notice Introduction. This notice tells you about the ways health information is used. It describes your rights and our obligations regarding the use and disclosure of heath information. Over time your therapist may change this notice. If changed, your therapist is required to inform you of our new privacy policy by making a revised notice available to you.

Your therapists reserve the right to change this notice and make the new provisions effective for all Protected Health Information that we maintain.

General Privacy Information. When you contract to be under the care of a therapist, a record is usually kept. These records contain demographic information (such as name, address, telephone number, Social Security Number, birth date, and health insurance information). The records may also contain other information including how you say you feel, what health problems you have, treatments you may have received, observations by health care providers, diagnosis and plan of care. This is known as Protected Health Information, or PHI, and is used for a number of purposes explained in detail in this document.

Your PHI may be used and/or disclosed by your therapist for the purpose of providing health care services, to pay or obtain payment for your health care treatment, to inform you about other health-related options, to comply with the law.

Treatment. Your therapist will use and disclose your protected health information to provide, coordinate, or manage your care and any related services. This includes the coordination or management of your health care with a third party for treatment purposes. For example, we may disclose your protected health information to a pharmacy to fulfill a prescription or to a subcontracted provider who is also providing services for you. Your therapist may also disclose protected health information to physicians who may be treating you or consulting with the treating therapist with respect to your care. In some cases, we may also disclose your protected health information to an outside treatment provider for purposes of the treatment activities of the other provider.

Payment. Your PHI will be used and disclosed, as needed, to obtain payment for the services provided by your therapist. This may include certain communications to your health insurer to get approval for the treatment that are recommended by your therapist. For example, if a certain level of service is recommended, we may need to disclose information to your health insurer to get prior approval for the level of service. We may also disclose protected health information to your insurance company to determine whether you are eligible for benefits or whether a particular service is covered. In order to get payment for your services, we may also need to disclose your protected health information to your insurance company to demonstrate the medical necessity of the services or to demonstrate that required documentation exists. Your therapist may also disclose patient information to another provider involved in your care for the other provider's payment activities.

Operations. Your therapist may use or disclose your PHI, as necessary, for to support the health care operations of the therapist's practice. Health care operations include but are not limited to:

- Quality assessment and improvement activates
- Employee review activities
- Training programs including those in which students, trainees, or practitioners in healthcare learn under supervision
- Accreditation, certification, licensing or credentialing actives
- Review and auditing, including compliance reviews, medical reviews, legal services and maintaining compliance programs.

In certain situations, we may also disclose consumer information to another provider or health plan for their health care operations

Other Uses and Disclosures. As part of treatment, payment and healthcare operations, your therapist may also use or disclose your protected health information for the following purposes:

- To remind you of an appointment including messages left on answering machines
- To inform you of potential treatment alternatives or options
- To inform you of heath-related benefits or services that may be of interest to you.

Uses and Disclosures Beyond Treatment, Payment, and Health Care Operations Permitted Without Authorization or opportunity to Object: The HIPAA Privacy Rule also allows your therapist to use or disclose your PHI without your permission or authorization for a number of reasons including the following:

When Legally Required. Your therapist will disclose your PHI when required to do so by any Federal, State or local law.

When there are Risks to Public Health. We may disclose your PHI for the following public activities and purposes:

- To prevent, control, or report disease, injury or disability as permitted by law
- To report vital events such as birth or death as permitted or required by law
- To conduct public health surveillance, investigations and interventions as permitted by law
- To collect or report adverse events and product defects, track FDA regulated products, enable product recalls, repairs or replacements to the FDA and to conduct post marketing surveillance
- To notify a person who has been exposed to a communicable disease or who may be at risk of contracting or spreading a disease as authorized by law
- To report to employer information about an individual who is a member of the workforce as legally permitted or required.

To Report Abuse, Neglect Or Domestic Violence. Your therapist may notify government authorities if we believe that a consumer is the victim of abuse, neglect or domestic violence. This disclosure will be made only when specifically required or authorized by law or when the client agrees to the disclosure.

To Conduct Health Oversight Activities. Your therapist may disclose your protected health information to a health oversight agency for activities including audits; civil, administrative, or criminal investigations, proceedings, or actions; inspections; licensure or disciplinary actions; or other activities necessary for appropriate oversight as authorized by law. Your therapist will not disclose your health information if you are the subject of an investigation and your health information are not directly related to your receipt of health care or public benefits.

In Connection With Judicial and Administrative Proceedings. Your therapist may disclose your protected health information in the course of any judicial or administrative proceeding in response to an order of a court or administrative tribunal as expressly authorized by such order or in response to a signed authorization (in a format approved by the Louisiana Court Administrator).

For Law Enforcement Purposes. Your therapist may disclose your PHI to a law enforcement official for law enforcement purposes as follows:

- As required by law for reporting of certain types of wounds or other physical injuries
- Pursuant to court order, court-ordered warrant, subpoena, summons or similar process
- For the purpose of identifying or locating a suspect, fugitive, material witness or missing person
- Under certain limited circumstances, when you are the victim of a crime
- To a law enforcement official if the therapist has a suspicion that your death was the result of criminal conduct
- In an emergency in order to report a crime.

To Coroners, Funeral Directors, and for Organ Donation. Your therapist may disclose protected health information to a coroner or medical examiner for identification purposes, to determine cause of death or for the coroner or medical examiner to perform other duties authorized by law. Your therapist may also disclose protected health information to a funeral director, as authorized by law, in order to permit the funeral director to carry out their duties. Protected health information may be used and disclosed for cadaveric organ, eye or tissue donation purposes.

For Research Purposes. Your therapist may use or disclose your protected health information for research when the use or disclosure for research has been approved by an institutional review board or privacy board that has reviewed the research proposal and research protocols to address the privacy of your protected health information.

In the Event of A Serious Threat To Health Or Safety. Your therapist may, consistent with applicable law and ethical standards of conduct, use or disclose your protected health information if we believe, in good faith, that such use or disclosure is necessary to prevent or lessen a serious and imminent threat to your health or safety or to the health and safety of the public.

For Specified Government Functions. In certain circumstances, the Federal regulations authorize your therapist to use or disclose your protected health information to facilitate specified government functions relating to military and veterans activities, national security and intelligence activities, protective services for the President and others, medical suitability determinations, correctional institutions, and law enforcement custodial situations.

For Worker's Compensation. Your therapist may release your health information to comply with worker's compensation laws or similar programs.

Uses and Disclosures That You Authorize: Other than as stated above, we will not disclose your health information other than with your written authorization. You may revoke your authorization in writing at any time except to the extent that we have taken action in reliance upon the authorization.

Your Rights: You have the following rights under HIPAA regarding your health information: You have the right to inspect and copy your PHI. Under federal law, however, you may not inspect or copy the following records: psychotherapy notes, information compiled in reasonable anticipation or used in a civil, criminal, or administrative action or preceding and PHI that is subject to law that prohibits access to PHI.

You have the right to request a restriction of your PHI. This means that you may ask your therapist to not to use or disclose any part of your PHI for the purposes of treatment, payment or healthcare operations. You may also request that any part of your PHI not be disclosed to family members or friends who may be involved in your care or for notification purposes as described in this Notice of Privacy Practices. Your request must state that specific restrictions requested and to whom you want the restriction to apply.

Your therapist is not required to agree to a restriction that you request. If the therapist believes it is in your best interest to permit use and disclose of your PHI. Your PHI will not be restricted you then have the right to use another health care professional.

You have the right to have your therapist amend your PHI. If your request for amendment is denied, you have the right to file a statement of disagreement. Your therapist may prepare a rebuttal to your statement and will provide you with a copy of any such rebuttal. Request for amendments must be directed to the Privacy Officer. In this written request you must also provide a reason to support the requested amendments.

You have the right to receive an accounting of certain disclosures we have made, if any, of your PHI.

Complaints. You may complain to your therapist if you believe your privacy rights have been violated.

Your signature below is acknowledgement that you have received this notice of Privacy Practices.

Legal Policy and Fee Schedule

Court appearance is by subpoena only. The subpoena must be accompanied by either a consent form from the client/client's guardian or a court order.

Clients are discouraged from having the therapist subpoenaed. Though the client, client's guardian or the client's attorney is responsible for the court fees, it does not mean that the therapist's testimony will be solely in the client's favor. Once you are a client, the therapist is only able to be a fact witness in any legal case. A therapist is not able to serve both a clinical role and a forensic role. The therapist will only be able to testify to the facts of the case. Tennessee Art Therapy and Counseling does not offer expert witness testimony. If you need an expert witness to give an expert opinion, please ask the court to appoint an unbiased, objective, forensic evaluator, or the attorney can retain a forensic expert to evaluate legal issues and make recommendations to the court in the best interests of the parties involved.

Please also consider that if the therapist must appear in court, it could be damaging to the therapeutic relationship between the client and the therapist.

As a fact witness, I do require compensation for my time, as is usual and customary when professionals are requested to testify in court.

Due to a subpoena to appear in court, I am required to cancel my clients for a substantial block of time. I am requesting to be paid in advance for all preparation time, all time required out of my office, including travel time, as I will not be available to see clients during those times.

I thank you in advance for understanding that I simply cannot afford to provide this professional service pro bono.

Should you and your attorney still desire my presence in court, my fee structure for court is as follows:

- All preparatory time (e.g., reviewing the file, court preparation with attorney, communication related to scheduling and preparation) is charged at $300/ hour
- Court time, for all time required out of the office (i.e., including drive time) and/or scheduled out that I otherwise would not be able to see clients is charged at $300 hour.
- I cannot be available "on-call," as being called to come to court at the last minute is too disruptive to my practice. It is not fair to my clients that otherwise would be scheduled that day.
- I have a 4-hour minimum that will be required to be paid 3 business days in advance.
- If the court date is canceled without 2 business days' notice, I must still be paid the 4-hour minimum.
- All costs incurred by the therapist due to the timing of the court date must be paid (canceled vacations, childcare, etc).
- If services are needed with 48 hours' notice, there is an additional $275 charge.
- If the case is reset within 72 hours, there is an additional $275 charge.
- Additional fees may be determined on a case by case basis (cost of court documents, shipping, written summaries, etc).

Once a subpoena is received, the therapist will contact your attorney about the above fee schedule. By signing this form, you give your consent for the therapist to use verbal and written communication to contact your attorney and their office staff about the information above.

Additional Fees

Clinical needs should be addressed during your session. However, if additional time is required outside of your scheduled appointment, you will be billed the following:

Telephone calls after the first 10 minutes of free consultation:
$35 for each additional 15 minutes

Written correspondence (emails, letters, documents, etc):
$150/hour
The total cost will depend on the total time spent creating the written document. If the correspondence is needed as soon as possible, a rush fee may be applied. This fee will be discussed at the time of the request.

Medical Record Request:
Paper and Electronic Records
Search Fee including pages 1-5: $20.00
Pages 5 and up: $0.50 per page
Cost of postage
Electronic format max fee: $20

Custody/Access Dispute Contract

Client Name _____ Date of Birth _____

The purpose of this contract is to obtain written agreement that the therapist will not be asked to participate in any litigation regarding the custody/access dispute. If the therapist is asked to participate in litigation, the therapist's neutral role with the family may be compromised. This is likely to seriously jeopardize any progress that may have been made in therapy. In order to prevent such deterioration of any therapy, it is crucial that I/we have every reassurance that there will be absolutely no involvement on my/our part in current or future litigation between the parents. This is best accomplished by both parents signing this statement:

We wish to enlist the services of Tennessee Art Therapy and Counseling, LLC in the treatment of our family. We understand that such treatment will be compromised if information revealed therein is brought to the attention of the court in the course of a custody/access dispute. Accordingly, we mutually pledge that we will neither individually, nor jointly involve Tennessee Art Therapy and Counseling, LLC in any litigation whatsoever. We will neither request nor require Tennessee Art Therapy and Counseling, LLC to provide medical records or testimony in court. If the services of a mental health professional are desired for court purposes, the services of a person outside of Tennessee Art Therapy and Counseling, LLC must be enlisted.

We have read the above, discussed these provisions with any attorney that we may be involved with at the present time and agree to proceed with therapy at Tennessee Art Therapy and Counseling, LLC.
